

We can help steer
you to open water.
And keep you moving through calmer seas.

At Goodman & Company we know a little about tough times. We started our accounting firm more than 77 years ago during the worst economic period in U.S. history and have grown into one of the top CPA firms in the country. We understand that what you do when the seas clear, and where your company is headed is just as vital as getting through the current tough times.

That's where we come in. You may already know we can handle your traditional accounting and tax needs. We can also handle your Forensic, Litigation and Valuation needs – in fact, we have an entire division dedicated to supporting you.

In today's increasingly complex legal environment, we look behind the numbers and use a multidisciplinary team approach to provide solutions through the entire dispute and litigation process.

Congratulations to the Legal Elite
