America Counts on CPAs

The CPA profession touches virtually every area of business and personal finance. Millions of Americans rely on their CPAs for trustworthy business advice and financial planning. From helping you run your business more effectively and preparing your taxes, to developing sound financial strategies for your families' security — we're here whenever you need us. Just as we've always been. America counts on CPAs.

Is your CPA a member of the Virginia Society of CPAs? If not, they should be. It's your guarantee for financial success! For free resources to improve your financial health, or to search for a CPA in your area, visit www.FinancialFitness.org.
