THE INSTITUTE CONFERENCE CENTER Danville

A high-tech facility away from congestion

The Institute Conference Center (ICC) at the Institute for Advanced Learning and Research is the premier conference and meeting facility in Southern Virginia. The ICC offers a fully equipped and high-tech setting at the crossroads of two major expressways in Danville, away from the congestion of larger cities.

The breathtaking facility offers 25,000 square feet of meeting space including an 8,400-square-foot flexible Great Hall, a 135-seat tiered surround-sound auditorium and a beautiful glass atrium. Technology includes videoconferencing and teleconferencing with recording capability, short-throw projectors, interactive white boards, and portable interactive touch screen LCD monitors.

The business facilities offer numerous amenities including an Executive Boardroom with seating for 30, and three perfectly appointed business conference rooms. From executive and professional training to workshops, trade shows, receptions, weddings and family reunions, the ICC offers options that will satisfy all of your event or conferencing needs.

A new partnership with Sodexo positions the ICC at the forefront of catering options and quality. A world leader in food service solutions, Sodexo has clients throughout Virginia including Liberty, Mary Washington and George Mason universities.

The ICC is noted for providing service excellence to several Fortune 500 companies such as Altria, Goodyear and Nestle. The Virginia State Bar, LEAD Virginia, The University of Virginia, Franklin Covey, IKEA, the National Academy of Sciences and SAE International have all held successful events at the ICC.

The skilled and friendly staff will plan the menu and arrangements for your next event, and make it an effortless and memorable experience. The Conference Center team is dedicated to providing superior customer service and looks forward to welcoming you to beautiful Southern Virginia.
