

COLONIAL WILLIAMSBURG

Hampton Roads Peninsula

Colonial Williamsburg. Consider it done.

To plan a successful meeting, first choose a destination you can trust. Pick a place that's centrally located, easy for your attendees to get to and provides flexible meeting space with today's technology. Sounds like a lot, and it is. But this enchanting place has it all covered.

Getting here is easy. Our area is conveniently located within 45 minutes' drive of Richmond and Norfolk and within two-and-a-half hours' drive of Washington, D.C.. The Williamsburg area is serviced by three airports – each with limousine and rental car service – providing a combined 200 daily flights. Just a few blocks from the Historic Area is an Amtrak station that connects with D.C. via rail. And our meeting facilities are situated right in the middle of the East Coast.

Attending a conference is not always about business. When it's time to push away from the meeting table, entertaining options — on site and nearby — abound. Shopping thrives with over 50 boutiques and shops. Cuisine comes in many flavors, with over 20 restaurants to choose from within walking distance, from fine dining to traditional pub fare. And relaxation rises to the top at the Spa of Colonial Williamsburg. An award-winning oasis, this spa features a virtual timeline of American healing treatments, from 17th-century hot stone massages to modern day skin rejuvenation.

A conversation about business entertainment wouldn't be complete without mentioning golf. Few places provide the legendary golfing experience that you get at the Golden Horseshoe Golf Club. The Gold and Green Courses are America's first father-and-son course design (Robert Trent Jones, Sr. and Rees Jones). The Gold Course's #16 is one of the first island holes in the nation. And, the Golden Horseshoe is routinely ranked as one of "America's Top Golf Courses".

When it comes to conference space, flexibility is key. Our facilities include four distinct properties that provide over 67,000 square feet of combined meeting space. Each location — Williamsburg Lodge, Williamsburg Inn, Providence Hall and Williamsburg Woodlands Hotel & Suites — showcases something unique about the area. Some are elegant and upscale. Others are intimate and picturesque. But each one is outfitted with the latest in presentation technologies, transformable spaces and a variety of thoughtful, natural space to encourage big thinking.

As a little something extra, our meetings destination also has a few perks in store. By staying in an official Colonial Williamsburg hotel, attendees enjoy a handful of VIP perks and lodging that's front and center to both entertainment and the convention spaces. The official hotel benefits include discounted tickets to the world famous Revolutionary City, delivery of official Williamsburg store purchases to hotel rooms, and more.

We give meeting planners a comfortable feeling of success. With amazingly flexible meeting spaces that can accommodate up to 1,500 guests, and exceptional service that stems from 75 years of experience, Colonial Williamsburg affords you the confidence to consider it done.
