

NORFOLK

Hampton Roads - Southside

From traditional to unique events, Norfolk offers an ideal meeting location

While the waterfront city of Norfolk already boasts outstanding meetings facilities, a series of unique, offsite venues provide planners with even more options. The city's famed cultural centers, historic theaters, museums, zoo and river cruises double as alternative meeting venues. Additionally for those meetings and events that require a more traditional space, the destination's downtown hotels and convention center offer the ideal setting. Hotels in Norfolk provide over 5,000 rooms and nearly 500,000 square feet of total meeting space, complete with the latest in modern audio and visual equipment.

The dedicated professionals at VisitNorfolk are ready to ensure that your meeting or convention is the best it can be. Our award-winning sales team is here to assist you in any way possible and VisitNorfolk's convention services team can assist with conference registration, housing, event planning, photographers, caterers, requests to the Mayor's office and other local dignitaries, and much more. VisitNorfolk also provides meeting planner guides and promotional materials for groups. The public relations department at VisitNorfolk offers assistance with coordinating press releases and local media coverage. Additionally, VisitNorfolk can help groups find unique off-site venues for convention meetings and functions.

With 144 miles of beautiful shoreline, Norfolk has become home to a wide array of water sports and boating excursions. Whether by private or public boat, sailboat or yacht, sailing Norfolk's Elizabeth River offers spectacular downtown views. Multiple river cruises are easily accessible from downtown Norfolk's Town Point Park, conveniently located within walking distance of many area hotels. The city's bustling downtown district, comprised of nearly 70 chef-owned restaurants, reads like a culinary map of the world, with stops in India, Greece, France, Spain, among others, but certainly not without overlooking Virginia's beloved, hometown fare. Getting around the city has never been easier with Virginia's first light rail system, The Tide.
