

Williamsburg LodgeHAMPTON ROADS - PENINSULA*The Williamsburg Lodge – an American classic with resort amenities

The folk-art inspired Williamsburg Lodge is one of the Mid Atlantic's premier meeting and conference locations with 323 guest rooms and suites ideal for meetings of all sizes (from 10 to 900 attendees) and market segments. The facility offers conference guests gracious Southern hospitality and amenities with 45,000 square feet of versatile indoor function space, an 11,200-square-foot ballroom, a 6,700-square-foot ballroom, 28 meeting rooms and four outdoor event areas. A full staff of conference concierges insures the meeting runs smoothly.

Set on a hillside overlooking the Colonial National Parkway, the Lodge is a hotel like no other. Designed by a preeminent American architect of the 1930s, Gilbert Stanley Underwood, known for his National Park lodges and western railway stations, the lodge reflects its Virginia setting, offering comfort and style along with first class service and creative cuisine. A major renovation and expansion in 2007 retained the charm and architectural elements that make the Lodge one-of-a-kind while modernizing guest rooms, meeting space, technology and accessibility.

Under the direction of Executive

Chef Anthony Frank, the culinary team creates the right food for the group and can serve an informal barbecue, a black-tie dinner, burgers on the golf course, an elegant brunch in the Virginia Room or a cocktail reception on the lawn — whatever fits the meeting theme and goals. The new Taste Studio, located across the street from the Lodge, provides a beautiful setting for chefs' cooking demonstrations, small receptions or beer, wine and spirits programs such as, "Pints and Pairings," "Wine, Wit and Wisdom," and "Sips with Chefs," which offer unexpected pairings of spirits and small bites, combined with instruction on how to discern differences in taste.

The purpose of meetings extends beyond business, and the Williamsburg Lodge fills that bill, too. Across the street from the hotel is the 20,000-square-foot Spa of Colonial Williamsburg, with an indoor pool, two outdoor pools, fitness quarters and 12 treatment rooms, including two designed for couples. The pools overlook the Golden Horseshoe Golf Club, with 45 holes of golf designed by Robert Trent Jones Sr. and his son Rees Jones. Eight tennis courts, bicycle rentals, walking trails, 50 shops and 20 restaurants are all within walking distance of the Lodge.

In addition to the Lodge, Colonial Williamsburg hotels include the elegant Williamsburg Inn, with 62 guest rooms and meeting and function space. Providence Hall House provides an executive board room in a secluded 18th-century home that includes fireplaces, three spacious bedrooms with sitting rooms and private baths, a library, garden room, terrace and adjoining carriage house with two additional bedrooms and baths.

Providence Hall Guesthouses offer 43 spacious guest rooms and balconies overlooking natural areas — a relaxing escape for busy meeting attendees. Three meeting rooms provide flexible space for 15 to 100, depending upon the function and configuration of the rooms.

The Williamsburg Woodlands Hotel & Suites provides superb value in a beautiful setting, with 300 guest rooms and suites and function space overlooking a serene stream and waterfall.

Revenue from all products and services supports Colonial Williamsburg's research, preservation and educational initiatives.
