A true escape from it all

In Spring 2013, Sanderling Resort emerged from a multimillion dollar refresh, beckoning groups back to its picturesque shores on the Outer Banks of Duck, North Carolina. Featuring 95 guest rooms and suites and five rental homes set on 13 acres and almost completely encircled by the Atlantic Ocean and the serene Currituck Sound, attendees can enjoy two new pools with inviting fire pits for gatherings, a tranquil spa offering indigenous healing treatments and miles of uninterrupted beauty, including a nearby Audubon Sanctuary at the Outer Banks only true resort.

A refreshed arrival experience greets guests with an open and welcoming lobby area including the new Beach House Lobby Bar. The resort is also home to Kimball's Kitchen, a lively new steak, seafood and raw bar concept boasting dramatic views of the sound. The Lifesaving Station and No. 5 Bar, housed in a national historic building offering inside and outside dining, focuses on locally sourced coastal Carolina cuisine appealing to all generations. With more than 12,000 square feet of updated indoor and outdoor event space, meeting planners have a venue to suit every need.
